BRILLIANT WERE THE NUP-TIALS

At Central Presbyterian Church Princeton, Of Former Crittenden County Young Lady.

TENDERED RECEPTION AT HOPKINSVILLE.

At the Central Presbyterian church in this city, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the holy rites of matrimony solemnized between Mr. A. E. Greenhill and Miss Ethel N. Adams.

The nuptial ceremony making this twain one, was pronounced by the venerable Presbyterian divine, Rev. Nourse, of Hopkinsville, in impressive and eloquent manner.

The altar was artistically decorated with potted palms and flowers in blossom, forming a floral bank, behind which Miss Alma Schnabel, a gifted musician of Corydon, Ky., and an intimate friend of the bride, presided at the organ. Those witnessing the ceremony were directed to their seats by ushers, Coleman Moor of Hopkinsville, and Hinkle Rawles, of this city.

Shortly before four o'clock the carriages with the bridal party arrived before the church, and while the formation of the march was being made in the vestibule, Mrs. J. L. Wilkes sang, "I would Live or I'd Die for You," Miss Schnabel playing the accompaniment. As the last sweet note died away, the organ sounded the wedding march, and the bridal party entered, preceded by the ushers, one down either aisle. The attendants were Misses Melville Akin and Mr. C. A. Graham, Miss Mary Weaver Dyer and Mr. S. Wilson Adams. The bride entered upon the arm of her grandfather, S. Hodge, meeting the groom before the altar, where Rev. Dr. Nourse awaited them. The ceremony was brief but beautiful and solemn.

Later the entire wedding party, with a few other invited guests, took the 5:30 train for Hopkinsville where they were tendered a reception and bridal supper by the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Moore. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Greenhill, Misses Melville Akin, Mary Weaver Dyer, and Alma Schnabel of Corydon Messrs. C. A. Graham, of New Decatur, Ala., Coleman Moore, of Hopkinsville, S. W. Adams and Hinkle Rawles, of Princeton, and the Rev. Dr. Nourse.

Besides those above named, others attending the nuptials from a distance were Mrs. S. A. Adams of Trinity, Ala., the mother of the bride, Mrs. H. C. Moore, of Hopkinsville, and Mrs. Emmons, Trinity Ala.

The bride is a native of Marion, Crittenden county, and with her parents Rev. R. H. and Mrs. S. A. Adams resided in this city, number of years ago, her father who died a few years later, being at the head of the Princeton Collegiate Institute. She had prepared herself for the profession of a trained nurse, a few months ago taking a post graduate course at Bellevue hospital, New York, and was located at Louisville,

She is a grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Hodge, this city, and a young lady of rare intellectual gifts and many accomplishments.

The groom is a popular and prosperous young business man of New Decatur, Ala., and greatly interested in Y. M. C. A. work, being assistant secretary of the organization at that place.

The newly wedded couple left Hopkinsville on an early morning train Wednesday for their future home in New Decatur, hearing with them the good wishes of a host of friends.

IN MEMORIAM.

Clara Porter Carnahan passed away January 1, 1910, aged four years and eleven months.

She was a member of the Beginners' class in the Methodist Sunday school, and the first one to pass from our midst into the fold of the loving Shepherd.

"We know he will but keep Our own and his until we fall asleep. We know he does not mean To break the strands reaching between The here and there."

She was a bright, affectionate child, ready to greet her teacher with a smile, so we miss her greatly.

We extend our sympathy to her bereaved parents and grandparents. May the little beaming hands gently guide them to the Father's house.

"I love to think that somewhere, In the country we call heaven, The land most fair of everywhere Will unto them be given;

A land of little faces—very little, very fair— And every one shall know her own.

And cleave unto it there, Oh, grant it, loving Father, to The broken hearts that plead:

Thy way is best—yet, oh, to be In perfect faith indeed!

To know that we shall find them. Even them, the wee, white dead, At Thy right hand in Thy bright land,

By the living waters led!"

HER S. S. TEACHER.

Notice.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Notice is hereby given that I have this day emancipated and set entirely free my son, Claud Taber, who will hereafter be permitted to contract and be contracted with, work for himself and to receive and retain his wages therefor. And especial notice is also hereby given that hereafter, I shall not in any way or manner be or become responsible for any debt, default or liability of the said Claud Taber; and shall not in any way or manner be or become liable for anything that he may purchase, either necessities or other thing whatsoever; neither will I be responsible for any set of any kind of the said Claud Taber, but shall give him henceforth all that he can earn or make and he must pay his own bills and be responsible for his own acts. He is hereby emancipated and given his freedom to do and act for himself, and for his debts, liabilities and acts of whatever kind I am no longer bound. This January 12, 1910

LETTER FROM HON. MARION F. POGUE

O. Wicker, of Frances Precinct Elected Assistant Clerk of the House, After a Hot Fight

HARMONY PREVAILS AND THE TREASURY IS EMPTY.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 10, 1910. Friend Calmes:—

The first week of the legislature is now history. We have seen several assemblies, but some how, this one is to us, the queerest yet, and you may not be surprised if it turns up SOME SURPRISES before the thing is over. Everything and everybody seem so strange, but that may be because we are lost in the New Capital, and have not yet got our bearings. The New Capitol is to us yet what the city is to the backwoods visitor on his initial trip. It is well worth a trip to see the stately pile. Domes reaching skywards, colossal pillars, symmetric columns, marble walls and massive stairways all lend beauty, strength to this, one of the most splendid structures on the continent. No Kentuckian can view this building without a feeling of pride, how ever tight he may hold his own purse strings, he is bound to be glad that "somebody" had it done. And then, no charge of graft, in all the years of building has ever come to make any Kentuckian blush with shame. No graft, no extravagance! How good that sounds, when millions have been squandered in other states and scandals galore.

As to progress, we are now just before going to work. Organization has been perfected with perfect harmony, the Republicans in the House especially with drawing their candidates and voting for the Democratic caucus nominees.

George Wilson, of Union, is making and ideal Speaker of the House; he won without opposition.

All Crittendenites will be glad to know that Oscar Wicker, of Frances precinct, won out for Assistant Clerk of the House, after one of the hottest fights of our life. Well, you must fight if you would win.

Our old friend Bob Aiken has laid his insurance business by long enough to represent the good people of Caldwell county in this session. So will Senator Catlett look after our interests in the Senate Chamber.

I have never before seen harmony lying around in such big chunks. Democrats and Republicans actually sit together as desk mates, and it was rumored that a pair of these once irreconcilables were seen to take a drink of Old Taylor out of the same flask. But this is only heresay, and I must report these matters as second handed, because I have taken the pledge, you know.

My dear readers it is indeed a gloomy prospect your servant has before him to-night, howling winds without and snow two feet deep on every side, an empty treasury already and the land lady cross, perhaps anxious to know where she comes in. What, run a legislature without money? Yes, that is the way it looks now. Only a half million on hand and it belongs to the teacher of the State.

Oh what a glorious place soon for claim shavers! At the present rate June 15th will find us two million dollars in debt. What shall we do? Issue bonds or raise the tax rate? Or what, will you tell me?

Several bills have been offered in the Senate and Tuesday will be bill day in the House, then the flood gates will open and the bills will flow in.

We shall try to keep you posted about the happenings of the capital, and if you don't hear from us for quite a spell, you will know that stamps are out, for times are mighty close up here. Your Servant, MARION F. POGUE.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND LABOR

Bureau of the Census—The Secretary's Vigorous Address Follow the President.

ALL WILL WILL BE GLAD TO READ THIS INFORMATION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8, 1910

Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor, under whose supervision is the work of the Bureau of the Census, at the conference of eastern state supervisors here, gave a vigorous talk on the subject of their duty, in which he emphasized and added to what had been said by the President to the Census field chiefs previously at the White House. The Secretary said:

"I wanted a chance to meet you—not to speak to you, but to shake hands and possibly exchange a word here and there as occasion might offer. There is a further reason why it will be difficult for me to say anything at this time. We have a rule that after the President has spoken his Secretaries have nothing to say. [Laughter] I happened to be in the White House when you were there, and heard what the President said. To now repeat would not give emphasis; to add is barely pardonable.

"I am very glad that you did have an opportunity, however, to meet the President himself and to hear from him just what the attitude of the Executive on this matter of the taking of the census is; and I am glad that he had an opportunity to say to you how thoroughly he is in earnest about what he has heretofore said.

"It is unnecessary for me to dwell upon the importance of a correct census. Of course, we want to take a better census than has ever before taken—and that is no disparagement of the work of predecessors. We ought to improve; we ought to improve for reasons which are self evident. We ought to improve because the need for a correct and adequate census now is greater than it has ever been before. It is so on account of the growth of our own country, and because we are coming into relations with other countries, so that a correct report and a reliable statement, to be used not only at home but for comparison with what other countries are doing, is the one essential foundation of all calculations.

"Now, we have done, as we think what we can to accomplish that result. So far as we could, we have placed in charge here at the head men who are experienced, competent, and enthusiastic. Of course the office here might perfect in its machinery and its administration, and yet the entire work would be a failure unless you did what the President indicated this morning. After all, granting a false promise anything can be proved. No matter how fine the superstructure may be, if the foundation is not right the building is not worth anything. It is for you to furnish the foundation for what is going to be done. You are responsible to the Director, to me and to the President. That is the importance of your position.

"Now, there is a lot of human nature in this thing, as was said to you this morning. You will have to be judges of a good many things, and you will have to show some discretion. And there is a lot of human nature beyond you when it comes to the activities of the enumerators themselves. A man, for illustration, be a good man and yet not a good enumerator because he might not have the confidence of the people with whom he has to deal. It is not always easy to get men of the qualifications.

It is easy enough to make nominations but it must be left to you to decide, according to such qualifications as you may make, and according to such judgment as you may be able to apply to the men who are the proper men to be recommended to the Director for the work which is to furnish the foundation of the census that is ultimately to be completed.

"Now, I trust that that is showing a lot of human nature in taking these places. When people say that the Government should be run on business principles, I always reply: 'Yes, so far as bookkeeping is concerned, that is true; so far as employment of human nature is concerned, it can not be true because the Government does not pay enough to make it worth while for competent men to do what is expected. That is the truth of it. If I did not have enthusiasm and patriotism and love of country and desire to appear right among our fellow men, the Government would never succeed on business principles alone.

It takes something more. It takes willingness for men to serve their country in the places to which they are called. Your places are important. I know we can not pay you but I hope you may find your compensation in something better. When the census has been completed and Director Durand has succeeded in making it the best that has ever been taken, you may be glad to feel that your part was worth while."

Letter From Oklahoma.

Oklmulgee, Okla. Jan. 5, 1910. Dear Editor:—Inclosed find $10.00 for the Record-Press for 1910. We are having cold weather but not much rain or snow. December was the coldest for years, say the oldest settlers.

Crops were rather short last year, but prices were good so the farmers are getting along well. The cotton crop was good, so was the price in cents in the seed.

The sheriff of this county confiscated about $4,000 worth of whiskey and beer found at the Price Depot two days before Christmas. The sheriff from other counties did as well, and altogether the state got about $30,000. The sheriff turned it over to the enforcement officer who ship it to Guthrie. The state gets it to dealers in other states. When this was a territory they poured it into the gutter.

J. P. KING.

What a head full of theology and a heart full of love for all men. Is the two first statements in your last article. 1st—Theology, Divinity—The entire science of the Christian religion, the science which treats of God and man in all their known relations to each other. My! My!! what theologian, no wonder you can claim respecting, with all that theology in your head. 2nd.—And a heart full of love for all men. A strong feeling, affection, combined with gratitude and reverence. Now if you had of had all this love in your heart when you were trying to get that mourner, at Piney Fork Camp meeting, to just say that he was going with you to Heaven, when I interferred, you would have had no occasion to have written your first article. Now Rev. Hill I want you to keep at least cooler than you did that day at Piney Fork. Yes, Adam did fall, but he did not live under the Christian dispensation that we do. He was to stand or fall upon his own merits—was under "a covenant of works." It, therefore, required only one sin to cause his fall. But, in consequence of the "new and better covenant" (the covenant of redemption), Christians stand upon a foundation very different from that upon which Adam in his primitive state stood, for Christ is their surety; in him, not in themselves, they stand or fall. We, therefore, see at a glance that there is no analogy whatever between the standing of Adam in his original state and that of Christians under the new covenant, of which we have just spoken. This argument, then amounts to nothing. The truth of it, if it be an argument, it proves too much for the educator of apostasy, for it shows that only one sin, and the very least sin, too, that the mind can possibly conceive of would cause apostasy would regenerate the soul. That Judas was lost, died and went to hell, none, perhaps, will deny, but that he was ever a Christian none can prove. Rev. Hill would ask, "why did Christ choose him as one of the twelve apostles if he was not a good man?" Why he was chosen, is not the question. The question is, was he a good Christian? Let the Bible answer, for that is the only evidence that is worth a farthing in this case. The Saviour says: "Have I not chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?" John 6:70, this language, he it remembered, was spoken before Satan entered into Judas to betray Christ. John says, "he was a thief" and this too, was said prior to the time that he betrayed the Saviour. Again the Saviour says: "There are some of you that believe not, for Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him." John 6:64. Rev. Hill you say Christ was not have the first element of a Christian—was a "thief" and a "devil", and "cared not for the poor." Away then, with the idea that he fell from grace; he never had any grace. Again you say it was a new heart the soul gave to Saul. Bro. please stay with the truth and the bible. Now you cannot find it in the bible that the soul gave Saul a new heart this is some of that head full of theology. The bible says, "God gave him another heart," he, however,

AN UNUSUAL OFFER TO SUBSCRIBERS

Every Farmer and Citizen Should Have His Name and Post Office Printed on His Envelopes.

Every farmer or citizen for that matter, should have his name and post office printed on his envelopes and the paper he or his family use in their correspondence, thus avoiding any mistake in a reply. On all rural routes nearly everywhere this custom is being practiced and approved of, when too, it is found to be so much cheaper than buying plain paper and envelopes by the small quantity.

Here is our proposition: To every one subscribing or renewing their subscription to the RECORD-PRESS, we will give 100 envelopes and 250 sheets of nice note paper, with your name and address and whatever you want to say on both for the total sum of $1.50.

The envelopes and paper alone would cost $1.00 anywhere without the printing and by taking advantage of this offer you get the RECORD-PRESS one year to any address, together with 100 nice envelopes and 250 sheets of paper for $1.50.

We promise as much care in pleasing you as if you were paying full price. In other words we will guarantee to please you.

We are making this low offer that we may hold every subscriber and secure as many new ones as possible. We are anxious to increase our circulation from its already present high mark, and feel that this is the best way to do it.

Now of course you can not get your work the day you subscribe and order it. But your name will be entered with a copy of what you want and in a few days at the outside limit your work will be done and done to please you. There is scarcely a family in Crittenden county that will not spend twice this amount in the run of a year for paper and envelopes without the printing.

Should there be those who want only the 100 envelopes with the RECORD-PRESS, the total cost will be $1.25.

We have ordered a tremendous stock of envelopes and paper for this offer and will be ready to fill all order as fast as received. No one will be compelled to wait longer than for the work to dry.

Come in when you come to Marion and leave your order.

GUARANTEED DANDRUF CURE.

Beware of the druggist who tells you that any other hair tonic is just as good as Parisian Sage—he knows better.

Haynes & Taylor are the agents for Parisian Sage, and he won't try to give you something just as good, because he knows that Parisian Sage is guaranteed to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, and cure all diseases of the scalp in two weeks, or money back.

He knows that Parisian Sage is highly recommended as the most pleasant and rejuvenating hair dressing known. It makes the hair fluffy and beautiful. 50 cents a large bottle at Haynes & Taylor. They will guarantee it. Made in America only by Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, New York.

Miss Pearl Glasgow, of Little Rock, Ark. sent us a dollar for the Record-Press for 1910.

Geo. Robertson, of Wheatcroft, sent us a dollar for the Record-Press last week.

to A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness and general debility," he writes "I couldn't sleep had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. Then used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time health and vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. Its a medicine." Infallible for Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Blood and Nerves. 50c. at Jas. H. Orms' and Haynes & Taylor.

In Memory of Elza.

Elza Elder was born June 19, 1892, and died December 9, 1909. He was a son of Charlie Elder, of Morganfield. Elza took sick at the home of his sister, Mrs. Earl Farner, his old home place, and was sick three weeks. He begged his papa to take him back to his home at Morganfield, believing he would get well if he was at home, and his father took him home on Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock God released his suffering. He professed faith in the Lord during his illness and told his papa and mamma that he was not afraid to die. His remains were laid to rest in the Chapel Hill graveyard. Elza leaves a father, mother, three brothers, two sisters and a host of friends to mourn his death.

We are not parted forever. United souls are we. And though there come life parting. For long it can not be.

HIS SISTER.

Judge Pierce Gets Letter

Louisville, Ky, Dec. 24th, 1910 Judge J. P. Pierce, Marion, Ky.,

Dear Brother:—Now just to think that you would have on your table the biggest turkey in your county, and me here convalescing, hungry as a wolf, and you never said "turkey" to me. You didn't even offer me a glass of butter milk and that is about all they will let me have.

Well, I will wish you a Merry Christmas, you and your good wife and all the members of the family.

I have been very sick, and my convalescence is a little slow because I have had so much work to do, while lying flat on my back. Really I have succeeded in accomplishing more since I have been sick, that I did when I was well, but I am expecting to be able to come down your way before a great while, so you might as well be giving a little extra feed to the "Buttermilk" cow.

A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all.

Most cordially yours, W. D. Powell.

ANOTHER RECORD BREAKER.

Eight Dollars for Five and One-Half Cents per Hogs on Louisville Market.

Last week we had the sale of a car load of hogs in Louisville market by W. D. Powell & Co. at $8.35 per hundred the highest price reached within the last thirty years. On Tuesday of this week the same firm sold another car load of 75 head, averaging 314 pounds at $8.75 1.2 per one hundred pounds. This makes another high record for this market and so far as we know this tops the market for this year for any market in the United States. These hogs were fed by Walters & Coleman, of Mercer county, Ky., and were quite a smooth, fat lot and shows that Kentucky as a hog State ranks with the very best. They were bred in Kentucky, raised and fed in Kentucky. Kentucky is the best hog State and Louisville is the best hog market in the United States.

ANY WOMAN CAN HAVE BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Many women do not realize the attractions they possess because they do not give proper attention to the hair.

The women of Paris are famed for their beauty, not because their facial features are superior to those of other women, but because they know how to keep young by supplying vigor, luster and strength to the hair.

Three years ago Parisian Sage could hardly be obtained in America. But now this delightful hair tonic and dressing can be had in every town in America. Haynes & Taylor sells it for 50 cents a large bottle, and they guarantee it to grow beautiful, luxuriant hair; to turn dull, lifeless hair into lustrous hair; to stop falling hair; to stop itching of the scalp. Ask for Parisian Sage.

Fact and Fiction

"I think I know how to run my own business," said the owner of a large establishment to his clerk.

"That's it," said the clerk; "you are running it to death and trying to make a hound out of me."

Have you noticed the latest patent medicine advertisement?

"No. What's the title?"

"Bottled Backwater, for all sorts of backache."

"How do you like the new doctor?"

"Fine. He went to see a patient the other day and offered to knock twenty-five per cent off the sick list for cash."

President Linticum.—De secretary will now please read the minutes of the last meeting.

New secretary.—Dey was all took up in de discussion.

Politician.—In this great country of ours the humblest tramp may reach the White House.

Fair Hostess.—Yes, but goodness gracious, it is to be hoped he won't stop.

Black Beauty.—My master is putting on a good deal of style this season.

Bay Custer.—In what way?

Black Beauty.—I was sent to the blacksmith shop the other day and ordered shipshod.

Bay Custer.—What do you mean by that?

Black Beauty.—Shod with slippers, of course.

Bay Custer.—I suppose you were shod with slipper shoes that time you fell and were down so long.

DYCUSBURG.

We have had a fine Christmas trade.

We have had lots of whisky, seven fights and one man killed.

We are sorry to announce the death of W. J. Duncan, one of our oldest citizens.

Archie Brasher, the son of Isaac Brasher of Kuttawa, was shot and killed by a 14 year-old boy while out hunting Friday. It was accidental. The parents have the sympathy of our people. Funeral at Caldwell Springs Sunday.

We have no boats running the Cumberland now, owing to the ice.

The steamer Nashville will be out when the ice is out of the way.

Willie L. Griffin has accepted a position with the McKinley Street Car Co., of Cairo.

Jim and Chid Boaz, of Cairo, spent the holidays with their parents in this city.

Misses Marion and Maude Richards, two of the county's best school teachers, spent the holidays at their home on Main street.

Miss Ethel Boaz, our efficient teacher, spent last week at her home in Salem.

Miss Ray Cooksey will return to St. Vincent, the Catholic school, today which she has been attending the past three years.

CHAPEL HILL.

1910 is here and looking us squarely in the face. Everything is lovely and the farmer's goose is hanging high.

C. A. Walker has just moved to his new farm he recently purchased of Bob Enoch.

Miss Gustava Haynes, of Marion, visited the family of Jim Fowler last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hill visited J. T. Bigham and family Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Ruby Bigham visited friends and relatives in Princeton during the holidays.

Miss Nellie Adams spent Christmas with her Aunt, Mrs. Rankin, of Marion.

The oyster supper at Alexander

Hill's Tuesday evening was well attended and greatly enjoyed.

Norval Bigham narrowly escaped death a few days ago. While out hunting with his brother Lester, the latter's gun was accidentally discharged. Lester, not knowing the "blamed thing" was loaded, was fooling with the gun and it "went off," the bullet striking a button just below Norval's waist, which prevented him from being fatally shot. Both are sons of Eura H. Bigham.

Mrs. Leander L. Hughes and son visited Mrs. A. J. Thompson, of Kuttawa, during the holidays.

Best Stomach Remedy Free

It is an old saying that if the stomach is sound the whole body is safe, because so much depends upon the proper working of the stomach. Many persons find themselves with a disorder of the stomach which produces dyspepsia or a peculiar state of biliousness.

If you suffer from both stomach trouble and constipation you are on the way to a very serious disease. From just such conditions come appendicitis, rheumatism, skin diseases and similar disorders, because the waste matter that should have been expelled from the system through the bowels has found its way into the blood and vitiated it. What is needed at this point is not simply a violent cathartic tablet or salt, which usually does more harm than good, but a gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which people have been using for three centuries for nearly a quarter of a century. It cured J. C. Latham, of Warrensburg, Mo., of stomach trouble, of long standing, also William Voll, of 903 Illinois St., Louisville, Ky., who had the trouble for fifteen years.

However, if you have stomach trouble you want to know from personal experience what Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will do for you. If so, send your name to the doctor and a free trial bottle will be sent you. You are urged to send for the free bottle, as the results from it will be the best recommendation of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Then you will do as over two million people did last year—go to your druggist and buy a regular bottle at 50 cents or $1, according to the size you prefer. We could mention hundreds and hundreds of families who are never without it. You can never tell when some member of the family will need a laxative, and then no time should be lost taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 500 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

On Christmas Eve night all Christians united in celebrating the greatest event in the history of the world, the birth of our Saviour.

Christmas in Marion churches has always been a great event and this year has been no exception to the rule.

The Presbyterian Sunday School rendered a special program in the sanctuary of the Main street church which was pronounced, by all present, the best ever witnessed in the city. Long before the hour for the exercises to begin the large auditorium was full of people, and an air of joyful anticipation pervaded the audience, adults as well as children.

The program rendered was a beautiful one. For the previous two years the church has been celebrating their past under the instructions of Mrs. S. M. Jenkins, assisted by Miss H. L. Law and Mrs. R. L. Moore, and each little fellow was in love with his part and anxious to carry it out and the unanimous verdict of the audience was that all did their part ably, and that Mrs. Jenkins and her able assistants had proven themselves masters in the art of directing children children.

After the program was over, and the thanks of each of the one hundred and twenty members of the Sunday School had been called, three different times, each calling taking a gift from the large and beautiful Christmas tree, the Assistant Superintendent, after an appropriate talk, asked the audience to remain seated for a few minutes, and two baskets of oranges was passed among the audience, and every body present was asked to take some.

After the benediction, the people with their faces bright and shining with joy, which seems so prevalent during Christmas times, with one accord pronounced the event a grand success, and Mrs. Jenkins was the recipient of many hearty congratulations on her successful management. The adults as well as the children went out with the story of the babe found in the manger fresh in their minds, and every one was joyful, and so generous and charitable, from having the charm of the Christmas spirit perfected into his life again.

Flour spar business is on the rapid rise in Marion and orders are coming in fast and the demand for the product is at good prices.

As our streets have been blocked for some time with snow, we shall be glad when it is gone.

A meeting is in progress at the Baptist church that bids fair to awaken the town. Rev. Wm. D. Nowlin is an evangelist with a soul-saving reputation and backed, as he is, by Rev. M. E. Miller, one of the cleverest and best loved little preachers in this end of the state, with good singers from all the churches, there is every reason to expect great blessings from the meeting.

All of the newly elected officers are beginning to look at home in their new possessions and things are moving along smoothly.

W. B. RANKIN NOTIFIES THE STEMMING DISTRICT.

They Must Deliver No Funked Molded Tobacco For Fear Injuring Sales

To the members of the Stemming District Tobacco Association I wish to say. In preparing your tobacco for delivery members should bear in mind, that in our contract with the buyers they were not to take tobacco that is damaged by funk or mold, hail beaten or dirty from being rained on after having been cut. So if you should have any tobacco damaged from the above cause you should separate it from the sound or it will effect the price of the whole lot. In stripping, assort well and keep the long and the short separate. So the trader can put a proper valuation on your crop. Where tobacco is delivered in mixed lengths he can only estimate at the amount of each. Whatever you do; do not sprinkle tobacco. The buyers are not compelled to take it until offered in proper condition.

Again let me request that you who are not done stripping to tie in medium sized hands. In selling the Crittenden county pool, your Executive Board promised to do this. If we expect the buyers to comply with their part of the contract, we should be willing to do the same. Believing you will do this, as good, loyal members, I remain,

Yours truly,
W. B. RANKIN,
Chairman Crittenden Co.

REV. GYRUS BRADY TOWNSEND

Of Kansas City, Writes the Island of Regeneration and While Backed by Women of His

CHURCH IS CONDEMNED BY THE PRESS.

The board of directors of the Toledo public library barred "The Island of Regeneration," written by the Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady, rector of St. George's Episcopal church, Kansas City, and the women members of his Kansas City church are mad about it. One woman, the Kansas City public librarian, says: "The fact that Dr. Brady wrote it assures me that it is all right. We have two copies that are always out, and five more ordered."

A woman, being a victim of impulse, is not a proper person to say what the people shall, or shall not read, is she? This woman says the book is "all right because Dr. Brady wrote it," evidently in the blind belief that a preacher can do no wrong. The illustrations in the book are enough to condemn it, even if a preacher wrote it with prayers before sharpening his pencil. In "The Island of Regeneration," a man lives on a desert island all alone. He has never seen a woman; he has never heard of a woman, and doesn't know what kind of a creature it is, when one day a woman is shipwrecked on his island. She sees that the man has the purity of ignorance, and also that her clothes will not last if she wears them, and also that the climate is so balmy she doesn't need any. So she appears to him with nothing on but a few leaves draped from her waist down. This picture appears in the book, but of course there is nothing wrong in it, because a preacher wrote it. She is aware of man's weakness, being of the world, but relies on his ignorance for her protection. "and she reasons that all the emotions to which she was subject were in her own bosom; that the man before her neither knew nor cared for the things which vexed her. So she went on."

Which means, in every day talk, that she went on saving her clothes. She didn't know that the man knew, without being told, and that he followed her at night to the door of her cave and then because she trusted him, turns back, "face white in the moonlight, drops of sweet beading his brow, from the violence of his effort." You know what happened finally. She didn't put on her clothes and sail away, and he didn't forget that he was a Gentle man. But she forgot she was a Perfect Lady, and one night when he was wrestling with his emotions, she came to him, and the librarian of the Kansas City library says there is nothing wrong in the recital of what happened "because Dr. Brady wrote it."

In another picture, the woman dressed only in her wreath of leaves, lies in the man's arms. He is also saving his clothes, and is giving her the soul kiss. The story is a story of disgusting lust; it doesn't awaken a good sentiment in the mind of the reader, and is calculated to awaken many that are vile, and that it is all right because a preacher wrote it shows a blind confidence in preachers belonging several generations back. Dr. Brady should be ashamed of himself; and the board of directors of the Toledo library deserve some commendation for their ban upon this scandalous story. It would be interesting to know if the members of that board are men or women.

PASSES RESOLUTIONS OF RE-SEPECT

In Memory of the Late R. W. Wilson, by the First Presbyterian Church in Session.

HAD FOR MANY YEARS BEEN ELDER OF CHURCH.

The session of the First Presbyterian church of Marion, Kentucky, desiring to attest their sense of loss sustained by the death of Mr. R. W. Wilson, who, for so many years, has been an elder in this church, our high appreciation of his character and sympathy with his family, here record the following minutes:

Resolved, 1. That in his death this session has lost one of its most faithful members, a man of pure and honest purpose, ever faithful in matters of trust and an earnest Christian.

Resolved, 2. That we treasure the memory of his blameless life, his wise counsels, his quiet zeal and his liberality in the cause of the Master.

Resolved, 3. That in placing upon record an expression of our sorrow in this bereavement, we can not do justice to our feeling by a mere compliance with the forms which custom has prescribed. Such an expression would be far too inadequate to the occasion. While conscious of our own sense of loss, we feel that by his death this community and county has lost one of its most valuable and patriotic citizens.

Resolved, 4. That the clerk of our session be directed to communicate a copy of these resolutions to the family of our deceased brother, as an expression of our sympathy in their bereavement.

H. K. Woods,
Clerk of the Session

CASE AFTER CASE.

Plenty More Like This in Marion.

Scores of Marion people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement.

Jane Byford, Marion, Ky., says: "I was greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills and consequently I am in position to recommend them. My kidney trouble was brought on by exposure, together with a great deal of hard work. I suffered from the complaint for two years. I was unable to rest well on account of the dull pains through my back and in the morning I arose feeling very stiff. When I stooped sharp twinges seized me and caused intense suffering. I tired easily, felt very nervous and had dizzy spells and headaches. I knew from the sediment in the kidney secretions that my kidneys were disordered and a frequent desire to pass the secretions at night also proved this fact. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store, I have improved a great deal in every way. I have no hesitation in recommending this remedy as one that lives up to representations."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

CHANCES FOR HENDERSON DAM

Look Bright Since Washington Visit Kentucky and Indiana Delegations.

STANLEY A HARD WORKER—NEXT TO 'OUR OLLIE' GREATEST OF ALL

Washington, Jan. 8.—Western Kentucky and Southwestern Indiana's chief business men appeared to-day before the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors to tell why the next improvement on the Ohio river should take the form of a dam at Henderson, Ky. The delegation was composed of four men from Owensboro, eight from Henderson and twelve from Evansville.

In addition to these, Col. John L. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association; Representative Ollie M. James, of the First Kentucky district; Representative A. O. Stanley, of the Second; Representative John Boekne, of the First Indiana, and former Representative Frank B. Posey, of the First Indiana, appeared in behalf of the dam.

The committee looked favorably upon the project for which, among others, the following arguments were presented.

The Henderson dam is the only one recommended by the Army Board of Review of 1908 that is yet unbuild.

Its construction will save $50,000 a year in wrecked shipping at Henderson.

It will give access to the natural and unique ice harbor at the mouth of Green river.

All Kentucky want it built Southern Indiana wants it built.

Line Up Two Members.

The Kentucky delegations had last night secured the aid of two members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee at a dinner given the visiting Kentuckians by Representative Stanley. Here, in addition to the laymen, were gathered some of the most notable public men of the country—Col. Vance, Representative James, Representatives Underwood and Clayton, of Alabama; Representatives Pell and Burgess, of Texas; Representative Bowers, of Mississippi and Representative Tener, of Pennsylvania former Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks. Tener and Burgess, members of the committee, then pledged themselves to the Henderson dam.

At the very outset of the hearing, Representative Alexander Nye, chairman of the committee, remarked that there was no need to dwell on the Eastern Kentucky situation, as dam No. 23, the Big Sandy mouth project would be built. This is the cause in which a Ninth district delegation will be heard on Monday. Judge Posey, Col. Vance, J. E. Gunter, of Owensboro; B. S. Witt; A. Waller R. W. Ball and N. Powell Taylor, of Henderson, spoke. At one juncture of the hearing, Posey declared that water was needed in Western Kentucky to raise other things than "corn and hell."

The hearing occupied most of the morning and this afternoon the three cities' delegation interviewed Gen. W. L. Marshall, chief engineer of the army, who favors dredging a channel rather than building a dam.

COUNTY COURT CONVENED MONDAY

Notwithstanding the Cold Weather
There was a Big Crowd in Town
Proving a Busy Day.

THE WILL OF R. W. WILSON WAS PROBATED.

Monday dawned bright and clear, with the mercury too close to zero for one to be comfortable, and yet the people from all over Crittenden, Webster, Caldwell, Livingston and Union counties were in evidence, so that by noon the streets were alive with busy stock buyers and traders.

Judge Rochester made four sales of real estate as commissioner and Sheriff Asher several as tax collector.

The principle business before the County Judge was the appointing of three men constituting the Board of Proceessioners. They were: I. C. Hughes, W. A. Woodall and H. S. Hill.

The will of the late R. W. Wilson was probated, in which he leaves all of his property to his widow. Having heretofore made a division of his property to his two children, Mrs. S. M. Jenkins and John W. Wilson, he leaves the residue to his wife and naming her as executrix without bond to have and to hold, sell and convey at her will and to use as she desires. The will was a very brief document and yet satisfactory, conveying his every wish.

Judge Blackburn convened court on Tuesday evening to try A. D. Moon, an old civil war veteran, for incompetency for managing his affairs. Mr. Moon is 80 years old and has been blind for six or seven years in consequence of which he has been drawing a pension of $100.00 per month. A jury composed of twelve good men adjudged him incompetent for the handling of his money yesterday on business.

and the care of his property, whereupon the Court appointed a guardian for him. God bless the old soldier. There was a time when he rushed to the the thickest of the fight, with undaunted courage and a clear eye. Such men are to be looked upon through eyes dimmed with tears.

gave Nebuchadnezzar "another heart" but it was the heart of a beast. The Bible does not say God gave Sammel a "new heart," the heart of a regenerated man. It is true that David did many wrong things, but how deeply he repented of his wickedness, and how penitently did he pray God to deliver him from blood-guiltiness. But he never fell from Grace, he simply lost for a while the "joys of salvation, as he expressed it, but he never lost salvation itself, for every one admits that he was saved. No man will deny that Solomon, at one period of his life, was a dissolute, licentious man, but that he was finally lost no one can prove, and but few have the cheek to affirm. The fact is, the evidence is to the contrary; for in the latter part of his life he confessed that "all was vanity and vexation of spirit." The conclusion of the whole matter with him was, "Fear God and keep his commandments" and live. He was permitted to write three books of the Bible, which shows conclusively that he was willing, like a true Christian to confess his sins and repent of them.

I admit that Peter was a Christian, had been "born again," but I deny that he fell from grace, and that he was finally saved as all will admit.

Brother Hill also places Samson among the lost. Samson prayed and God answered his petition, which shows that Samson was saved. Now, dear Bro. Hill, if these men who, you claim, fell from Grace, we will see where their location is at present: "For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened and have tasted of the heavenly gift and made partakers of the Holy Ghost, if they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance." Rom. 4: 4-6 This scripture fixes your theory of being born into the Kingdom of God more than once. Now,

God says, "In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established." "And I say also unto thee, Thou art Peter, and upon this rock will I build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." Matt. 16: 18. "I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand." John 10: 28.

Now, my dear brother, I will make you this proposal. That you select 12 passages of scripture and I will do the same. We will base our argument upon them. If you will do this we shall see whether my creed is wrong or your "head full of theology" is wrong.

J. R. Kinn.

Miss Rosa Bradburn, who, some time ago, went to Evansville to seek employment, was stricken with disease and the Evansville authorities, refusing her right as a charge of the city or county, was returned to Marion in almost a dying condition. She was cared for here at the expense of at a private boarding house until death a few days ago, relieved her of her suffering. She was some fond mothers girl who, perhaps had been kind enough in her life, to others that her daughter might have been saved a paupers grave. Her time for rejoicing will be great indeed when she finds the poorest of earth, the richest in God's Kingdom

Dr. R. L. Moore was called to Louisville Tuesday on business.

Aubry Clark will lead the Epworth League Sunday night at the Methodist church.

W. D. Cannon is afflicted with a severe burn on his hand that is now giving him much trouble.

Answer This Question

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured numerous cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are two letters which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fitchville, Ohio.--"My daughter was all run down, suffered from pains in her side, head and limbs, and could walk but a short distance at a time. She came very near having nervous prostration, had begun to cough a good deal, and seemed melancholy by spells. She tried two doctors but got little help. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier and Liver Pills she has improved so much that she feels and looks like another girl."--Mrs. C. Cole, Fitchville, Ohio.

Irasburg, Vermont.--"I feel it my duty to say a few words in praise of your medicine. When I began taking it I had been very sick with kidney and bladder troubles and nervous prostration. I am now taking the sixth bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find myself greatly improved. My friends who call to see me have noticed a great change."--Mrs. A. H. Sanborn, Irasburg, Vermont.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful --or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

TO OUR FRIENDS--GREETING

In contemplating the events of the past year, we are moved to a feeling of gratitude and thanks to Providence for the many blessings we have been priveleged to enjoy, and also thankful and grateful to our many friends and patrons who have honored us with their favors and confidence. We now extend to them our best wishes for the coming year, which we hope will be one of happiness and prosperity.

A. S. CAVENDER,

Marion, Kentucky.
